

LAUDEMIO – FATTORIA SAN MICHELE A TORRI

One of the World's most awarded Extra Virgin Olive Oils

Crafted for consumers who value quality, transparency, sustainability and wellbeing.

The World Is Changing

- Access to high quality food is declining worldwide
- Health & longevity are becoming global consumer priorities
- Huge demand for nutrient-dense foods is accelerating
- Premium Extra Virgin Olive oil is emerging as functional nutrition — Not simply cooking oil

Laudemio — one of the world's most awarded organic EVOOs, direct from Italy

Why Laudemio - San Michele A Torri

- Exceptional Product Quality. Early-harvest, cold-extracted Extra Virgin Olive Oil with exceptionally low acidity (0.17%) and laboratory-measured polyphenol content of 615 mg/kg (Harvest 2025).
- Authenticity & Craftsmanship. Single-estate production in Tuscany. Hand-filled, individually numbered and fully traceable from estate to bottle.
- Globally Recognized Excellence. One of the world's most awarded Extra Virgin Olive Oils, with multiple international Gold and Platinum awards across leading global competitions.
- Health & Longevity. Naturally rich in bioactive polyphenols and aligned with the growing global shift toward Mediterranean nutrition, healthy ageing and longevity.
- Quality Without Compromise. Limited production, strict quality standards and complete control from harvest to bottling.

HEALTH & LONGEVITY

Where Award-Winning Quality meets Functional Nutrition

One Tablespoon of Laudemio – Every day. A small daily ritual. A powerful investment in long-term Health.

Naturally rich in laboratory-measured polyphenols (615 mg/kg, Harvest 2025)

Achieved through early harvesting and rapid cold extraction, delivering approximately 3–6 times higher polyphenol levels than high-quality commercial Extra Virgin Olive Oils (100–200 mg/kg), without compromising exceptional taste.

More than healthy fat

Laudemio combines monounsaturated fats with naturally occurring polyphenols, including oleocanthal, hydroxytyrosol and oleuropein, compounds widely studied in cardiovascular, metabolic and healthy-ageing benefits.

Rooted in the Mediterranean longevity story

Laudemio represents Extra Virgin Olive Oil at its finest, a cornerstone of the Mediterranean dietary pattern, one of the world's most studied approaches to long-term health and longevity.

Quality you can measure

With its naturally high polyphenol content preserved from early harvest to bottling, Laudemio goes beyond exceptional olive oil, it represents premium functional nutrition.

THE NORDIC EVOO PROMISE

Quality is becoming increasingly rare.
Our mission is simple:

To protect it, preserve it, and make it accessible through trusted partnerships.

Every bottle we represent should reflect measurable quality.

Every partnership should strengthen trust.

Every decision should honour the producer, the product, and the consumer.

Our Partnership Philosophy

At Nordic EVOO, we believe the world's finest products deserve partners who understand their value. We enjoy working with organisations that share our passion for exceptional quality, believe in doing business with integrity, and recognise that long-term success is built on trust.

We value partners who embrace transparency, respect the craftsmanship behind every bottle, and recognise that sustainability is a responsibility we all share. Together, we believe protecting exceptional quality today helps preserve it for future generations.

We don't look for customers. We look for partners who share our values and commitment to exceptional quality.

Let's Build Something Meaningful Together

Whether you are a premium retailer, distributor, hospitality group or strategic partner, we welcome conversations with organisations that share our commitment to exceptional quality, integrity and long-term value creation.

Distributor and market-entry pricing is available based on territory, channel strategy, annual volume and partnership model.
